समस्त मंत्रालयों/विभागों के लिए समान अभिलेखों के संबंध में अभिलेख प्रतिधारण समय-सूची Record Retention Schedule In Respect of Records Common To All Ministries/Departments

> प्रशासनिक सुधार एवं लोक शिकायत विभाग Department of Administrative Reforms And Public Grievances

The Department of Administrative Reforms and Public Grievances in the Ministry of Personnel, Public Grievances and Pensions, is entrusted with the responsibility of preparing Record Retention Schedule common to all Ministries and Departments, so that there is uniformity in the retention schedule of records of common nature in the area of policy, establishment and house keeping created by the different Ministries/ Departments of Central Government. With the assistance of a working group, having members from the Staff Inspection Unit of the Ministry of Finance, Ministry of Home Affairs and the Comptroller and Auditor General, a schedule was prepared. This schedule was circulated among the departments in January, 1963.

Keeping pace with the changes, in the working of the Government, this Schedule was reviewed and made up-to-date by this Department from time to time. The last edition was brought out in 1994. This edition was arranged according to the Scheme of Functional File Index for facilitating recording of the files.

With a view to bring economy of space and also for efficiency in retrieval of documents, suggestions were called for from various Ministries/ Departments of Government of India. The suggestions thus received were reviewed by a Committee comprising representatives from National Archives of India, Ministries of Home Affairs, Ministries of Finance, Ministries of Defence and Institute of Secretariat Training and Management. The attempt of the Committee was to make the Record Retention Schedule a comprehensive document and rationalize the retention period of various categories of records.

This Department would also like to place on record special appreciation of the team of officers and staff of O&M Studies Division of the Department who assisted the committee to finalize the job in time and exhibited a high degree of commitment and dedication.

Any suggestions for improvement of this Schedule will be welcome.

July 27, 2004

(P.I. Suvrathan) Additional Secretary Department of Administrative Reforms and Public Grievances

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Record Management has always remained a critical activity of the government departments, as good records management is viewed as key to efficient administration. The Department of Administrative Reforms and Public Grievances is responsible for formulation of guidelines on Record Management and preparation of Record Retention Schedule for records common to all Ministries/Departments of Government of India to ensure that there is uniformity in retention schedule of records of common nature. On formulation of the Schedule, utmost care is taken to ensure that files are neither prematurely destroyed nor kept for period longer than necessary. The Schedule is reviewed periodically.

In the meeting of Joint Secretaries on Record Management held on May 16-17, 2001 under the Chairmanship of Additional Secretary (Administration Reforms & Public Grievances), it was decided to review and update the Record Retention Schedule common to all Ministries/ Departments of Government of India published in 1994 by constituting a Review Committee under the Chairmanship of Additional Secretary, Department of Administrative Reforms and Public Grievance, comprising representatives from Ministry of Home Affairs, Ministry of Finance, Ministry of Defence, National Archives of India and Institute of Secretariat Training and Management. All the Ministries were requested to send their comments and suggestions, which were examined by the Review Committee. The schedule has now been revised to make it a comprehensive document.

The members of the Committee took special interest to go through the details and it is due to their high commitment and dedication that the revised RRS could be finalized in time. The Department would like to place on record special appreciation of Shri Sanjay Garg, Assistant Director, National Archives of India for his valuable suggestions on some important issues.

This Department would also like to place on record special appreciation for the commendable work done by Dr. Suman Keshari Agrawal, Under Secretary, Smt. Suman Velayudhan, Research Assistant, Shri S. K. Rohilla, Research Assistant, Shri Devender Satti, PA and Smt. Kusum Sharma, PA of the O&M Studies Division.

The Department of Administrative Reforms and Public Grievances would be grateful if the users of this publication send more suggestions for the improvement of the Schedule.

(Smt. Shyamalima Banerjee) Director (O&M) and Member Secretary, Review Committee

INSTRUCTIONS

- 1. The schedule follows the classification, arrangement and numbering scheme adopted for the functional file index for establishments and house-keeping work.
- 2. Categorisation of records have been done in accordance with Central Secretariat Manual of Office Procedure (CSMOP). Wherever necessary reference has been made to General Financial Rules (GFR) Appendix 13. Both GFR Appendix 13 and CSMOP Appendix 28 have been incorporated as annexes.
- 3. Those items of the functional file index, for which it has not been possible to prescribe rigid retention periods, have been omitted from this schedule.
- 4. Where necessary, additional main heads and sub-heads have been opened under the appropriate 'group headings' and 'main heads' respectively.
- 5. Retention periods for records (other than files) e.g. registers, for which no files are to be opened and which, therefore, are not covered by the functional file index, have been shown under the appropriate group headings at the end.
- 6. Retention periods for records common to all departments, but not relating to establishment and house-keeping work, and therefore not covered by the functional file index, have been shown at the end of the schedule.
- 7. Unless otherwise stated the records described in column 2 of the schedule refer to files. Where necessary, other ancillary records pertaining to such files like mortgage deeds or bonds, nomination form, etc. would have to be retained as specifically indicated in column 4 against the relevant items.
- 8. The retention period specified in column 3, in the case of a file, is to be reckoned from the year in which the file is closed (i.e. action thereon has been completed) and not necessarily from the year in which it is recorded.
- 9. In the case of records other than files, for example, registers, the prescribed retention period will be counted from the date on which it has ceased to be current.
- 10. If a record relates to two or more subjects for which different retention periods have been prescribed, it will be retained for the highest of such periods.
- 11. In exceptional cases, i.e. if the record has certain special features or such a course is warranted by the peculiar needs of the department, the record may be retained for a period longer than that specified in the schedule, in no case, however, will a record be retained for a period shorter than that prescribed in the schedule.
- 12. If a record is required in connection with the disposal of another record, the former will not be weeded out until after all the issues raised on the latter have been finally decided, even though the retention period marked on the former may have expired in the meantime. In fact, the retention periods initially marked on such records should be consciously reviewed and, where necessary, revised suitably.
- NOTE:- 'Department' means any of the ministries, departments, secretariat and offices mentioned in the First Schedule to the Government of India (Allocation of Business) Rules.

INSTRUCTIONS:

- 1) The retention period specified in Column (4), in the case of a file, is to be reckoned from the year in which the file is closed (i.e., action thereon has been completed) and not necessarily from the year in which it is recorded.
- 2) In the case of records other than files, e.g., registers, the prescribed retention period will be counted from the year in which it has ceased to be current.
- 3) In exceptional cases, a record may be retained for a period longer than that specified in the schedule, if it has certain special features or such a course is warranted by the peculiar needs of the department. In no case, however, will a record be retained for a period shorter than that prescribed in the schedule.
- 4) If a record is required in connection with the disposal of another record, the former will not be weeded out until after all the issues raised in the latter have been finally decided, even though the retention period marked on the former may have expired in the meantime. In fact, the retention periods initially marked on such records should be consciously reviewed and, where necessary, revised suitably.

Notes:-

- 1) Before any pay bills/pay bill registers are destroyed, the service of the Government servants concerned should be verified in accordance with Rule 81.
- 2) The periods of preservation of account records in Public Works Offices are prescribed separately by Government.
- 3) Where a minimum period after which any record may be destroyed has been prescribed, the Head of a Department or any other authority empowered by him to do so, may order in writing the destruction of such record in their own and subordinate offices on the expiry of that period counting from the last day of the latest financial year covered by the record.

- 4) Heads of Departments shall be competent to sanction the destruction of such other records in their own and subordinate offices as may be considered useless, but a list of such records as properly appertain to the accounts audited by the Indian Audit and Accounts Departments shall be forwarded to the Audit Officer and or the Accounts Officers, as the case may be, for his concurrence in their destruction before the destruction is ordered by the Head of Department.
- 5) Full details shall be maintained permanently, in each office, of all records destroyed from time to time.

Note:— The principle to be adopted in respect of files having financial implications and hence liable to be called by audit for inspection is that such files should be retained for a period of five years after they have been recorded. If, at any time during the period of five years, an audit objection having reference to the transaction dealt with in that file arises, is received, the file will not be destroyed until after the audit objection has been settled to the satisfaction of the audit. Also, if local audit does not take place within the period of five years, the Head of the Office should ascertain from the audit authorities whether they have any objection to the files relating to the earlier years, due for weeding out by the application of the five year formula, being destroyed or retained for a further period for scrutiny by the audit party and, if so, for what period.

While records may be reviewed and weeded out at periodical intervals in the light of the retention periods prescribed to avoid their build-up, the attempt should be to make a continuous and conscious effort throughout the year to weed out unnecessary records. In other words, the working rules should be "weed as you go".

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. The retention period specified in Column (4), in the case of a file, is to be reckoned from the year in which the file is closed (i.e., action thereon has been completed) and not necessarily from the year in which it is recorded.

2. In the case of records other than files, e.g., registers, the prescribed retention period will be counted from the year in which it has ceased to be current.

3. In exceptional cases, a record may be retained for a period longer than that specified in the schedule, if it has certain special features or such a course is warranted by the peculiar needs of the department. In no case, however, will a record be retained for a period shorter than that prescribed in the schedule.
